

Martha Robinson Johnson

Martha Robinson Johnson started and ran the Raleigh House Restaurant between Kerrville and Ingram. She moved here from Houston where she was very active in the Trinity Episcopal Church's catering department. After the death of her husband, she brought all her considerable knowledge and experience about catering and cooking to the Hill Country at the urging of some of her friends. The Raleigh House (named after her husband) was an immediate success with locals and tourists as well. This story tells how she started her business and her experiences running it for 34 summers.

Cross References:

Early Kerrville
Kerrville Mountain Sun
Pampell's
Bluebonnet Hotel
Kerrville Drive-In Theater
Crider's Rodeo

Names:

Raleigh White Johnson	Cammie Salter
John Andrew Johnson	Lynn Ashby
Ida Mae Johnson	Bishop William Sterling
Bishop Quin	Andy Edington
Ergeal Tippet	Cynthia Bishop
Mrs. Prade
Eleanora Jenschke	