

Don Eugene Lock

In this history, Gene Lock, whose father worked on the Stowers ranches in San Antonio and Kerr County, talks about his life growing up on these ranches, first in San Antonio until he was 10, then later on the Stowers Ranch in Kerr County. He attended Hunt area schools and later Tivy High and Schreiner Institute, playing football and other sports. He went to work at the Mountain Sun as a pressman, a job he held for 35 years and in this story, relates many amusing incidents related to putting out the newspaper during this time. He eventually bought his own ranch and began raising quarter horses which he showed successfully all over the country, winning numerous awards over the years.

Cross References:

Stowers Ranch
Boneyard Water Hole
Bonny Bell Lake
Mountain Sun
Guy Hyde Ranch
South Fork Ranch
King Ranch

Dryden Riding Ranch
Grape Creek School
Boneyard School
Japonica Store
Boneyard Indian Fight

Names:

Joy Family
Sublett Family
Frank Cloudt
G. A. Stowers
Hank Hahn
Mrs. Priour
The Salter Family
Bobby Shelton
J. O. Hankins
Vernon Cook
Roy Huffacker
Obbie Grief
Hal Cunningham

Roy Rogers
Jim Starkey
Bob Bennett
Rankin Starkey
Edna Karger
G. C. Sutherland
Slick McCaleb
Hen Baker
Cy (Levi) Taylor
Creed Taylor
Red Stegall
Dick Burrus